Course Outline
IMPR9105Permanent Residence (Family Class, Humanitarian and Compassionate Applications)*COURSE DESCRIPTION

This is the fifth course in the Immigration Practitioner Certificate Program. One of the stated objectives of Canadian immigration policy is to facilitate family reunification (IRPA s. 3(1)(d)). This course presents the Family Class and the programs available for Canadian citizens and permanent residents to sponsor members of the Family Class.

This course also looks at Humanitarian and Compassionate applications. Most applicants for permanent residence fall within either the Family Class or an economic class. However, there are some situations where they do not meet the criteria of those classes, but are compelling enough to justify consideration on Humanitarian and Compassionate (H&C) grounds. H&C factors allow the Minister to grant the foreign national permanent resident status or an exemption from any applicable criteria or obligations of this Act if the Minister is of the opinion that it is justified by Humanitarian and Compassionate considerations relating to the foreign national, taking into account the best interests of a child directly affected.
